DEATH OF JOHN F. ROLF

Judge of the County Court Was Ill Nearly Six Months.

John F. Rolf, one of Lafayette county's most estimable citizens died Friday at 12:20 o'clock at his home in Alma, after an illness of six months. Judge Rolf was taken ill last fall and through the advice of his physician he went to Kansas City, where an operation was performed. From this he gained no relief, and gradually grew weaker until last Friday when he peacefully passed away.

Judge Rolf was born in Markendorf, Hanover, Germany, September 15, 1848. He came to Indiana when twenty years of age and lived there until 1883, when he moved to Lafayette county, and settled near Alma. Judge Rolf was "a man of his word," strong in his convictions, thrifty, honest and honorable in all of his dealings with his fellow men, and esteemed most highly by all who knew him. He was an active church member. He gave liberally to the cause of education, and made every sacrifice for the comfort and happiness of those less fortunate than he.

He is survived by his wife, five sons and four daughters.

The funeral was held at Alma Monday evening at 2 o'clock.

Julius Vogt Gets Appointment.

Governor Major Wednesday appointed Julius Vogt, Jr., of Concordia, as Judge of the Eastern district to succeed Judge John F. Rolf, deceased. The appointment will meet with the approval of all classes of citizens of the county. Judge Vogt possesses every qualification necessary for the proper discharge of the duties of this office. The appointment is a good one. We are surprised however, that our pin-headed governor should make such a good selection.

Miss Margaret Wallace went to Kansas City Wednesday to spend the day.

Song Recital.

A large audience and beautiful flowers attested the popularity of Miss Atha Deweese in her home community when she appeared in a song recital in Murrell auditorium Thursday night. The program was given in compliance with one requirement for graduation, and reflected great credit upon the singer, instruction, and institution. The selections chosen for this occasion were well suited to the voice and attractively arranged.

Of the German songs, "Du bist wie eine Blume," and "Guten Morgen" were especially well sung. Flexibility of voice is ultimately tested by an Italian Aria; and in the selection from Donizetti Miss Deweese exhibited considerable fluency and proficiency in colorature.

Of the English songs, "An Irish Love Song" met with special favor; and the Wedding Morn was heartily applauded. The program closed effectively with Woodman's spirited song, "A Birthday," which the singer gave with dash and brilliancy.

Miss Deweese has a very pleasing stage presence which enhances her vocal abilities.

It is always a pleasure to hear the graduating pupils of Mrs. Allen, for they invariably show correct tone-placement, breath control, true intonation, and distinct enunciation: essential attributes of good singing.

Miss Brill contributed greatly to the success of the evening in beautiful accompaniments, which sustained the singer in a correct proportion. The entire program follows:

German Songs:
Ständchen - Schubert
Was ist Sylvia - Schubert
Du bist wie eine Blume - Schumann
Guten Morgen - Grieg
Leis' ruden hier, mein Gondoller - Jensen
Niemann hats geahen - Lowe

O Luce di quest Anima (Linda di Chamounix) - Donizetti
English Songs:
Roses of Spring are Banished - Harder
Come down, Laughing Streamlet - Spragg
An Irish Love Song - Long
The Wedding Morn - Nordin
Three Little Birds - Clarke
A Birthday - Woodman
